Deep South Loss Control and Claims Services

Deep South goes beyond the marketing, underwriting, and processing of commercial insurance by providing in-house loss control and claims services. These services perform a key role in enabling clients to manage their total cost of risk. Since the services are provided by our dedicated staff, committed to high standards of performance, we are able to be more responsive and deliver better quality loss control and claims services to customers.

The most enlightened approach to managing risk clearly resides in the prevention of claims. From working with customers to assess areas of exposure, to developing loss control strategies to mitigate losses, loss control services yield significant dividends. These services have a direct positive impact on the total cost of risk by reducing the cost of insurance, enhancing operational effectiveness and improving productivity of operations.

In the unfortunate event a claim occurs, Deep South's industry leading claims program, delivered by experienced specialists, focuses on providing a high level of care to customers. Through progressive claims management practices, Deep South is able to contain the cost of claims to manage the overall total cost of risk.
